Some useful Websites for use in Worship

All the addresses should be prefixed by www.

leeds-diocese.org.uk (go into R.E. Team then Primary Noticeboard)

culham.ac.uk

The site of the Culham Institute offers access to a broad range of R.E. materials and ideas for assemblies. Its perspective is more for community schools using an agreed syllabus, but it is well worth a visit.

schoolassemblies.btinternet.co.uk

assemblies.org.uk (excellent!)

catholic-forum.com/

This site has links to all kinds of things Catholic (mainly in the U.S.) – schools, colleges, discussion groups. Religious art and music from the most highbrow to material that would even give kitsch a bad name!

christusrex.org

This site has all kinds of links to material on the Sunday readings, feast days, maps of the Holy Land, Jerusalem, the Vatican as well as visits to various church buildings.

jesuit.ie/prayer

The website of the Irish Jesuits has prayer ideas linked to the readings of the day, as well as teaching on Ignatian prayer.

tasc.ac.uk/cc/

This is the official website of the RC Church in England and Wales and has some useful links with other sites across the country.

theresite.org.uk

This site is the national RE Council's own directory of RE related organisations. It is a fund of useful information.

hallam-diocese.com/schools

The Hallam site offers the latest materials prepared by the Inter-diocesan Planning Group for the Here I Am programme, as well as some sample policies.

online-d@www.online-direction.com (for spiritual direction online!)

In addition to books, tapes and CDs, various artefacts, such as suitable Crosses, crucifixes, candles, icons, banners, posters, etc.
